Mimicking Nature: Navigating the Complex Root Canal System
Peter Ham, DDS, MSD: Sponsored by Henry Schein Dental and EdgeEndo

The root canal system is inherently complex, often presenting significant challenges in achieving efficient negotiation and instrumentation. With the proper armamentarium, clinicians can streamline their approach, improve consistency, and enhance predictability in clinical outcomes.

- By the end of this session, participants will be able to:
- Identify common anatomical challenges within the root canal system and understand how they influence negotiation and instrumentation strategies.
 - Implement step-by-step instrumentation techniques demonstrated by Dr. Ham to improve efficiency and predictability in complex cases.
 - Apply strategies to minimize file separation risk and enhance overall procedural consistency across varied canal anatomies.
 - Integrate optimized rotary workflows that support smoother clinical performance and improved patient outcomes.

Drugs, Bugs and Dental Products, What to Prescribe!
Peter Jacobsen, DDS: Sponsored by Capitol Periodontal Group

Attendees will receive a copy of Dr. Jacobsen's Little Dental Drug Booklet. We all recommend, prescribe, and administer medications every day. Patients also use oral care products, hopefully, on a daily basis. How can we and the patients get the best care and benefit from our knowledge, as well as from the medications and products we and they use? This course will address the medications and products available to optimize benefits and minimize the risks associated with the procedures and products we use every day.
