

OSHA Review: Your OSHA Compliance Manual

- The Only Tool You Need

LaDonna Drury-Klein, RDA, CDA, BS; The Foundation for Allied Dental Education (SDDS Vendor Member)

Wednesday, April 30, 2025

12:00–1:00pm | Webinar

Dental office compliance with applicable laws and regulations is an ongoing process – most practice personnel have been forced to believe that professional guidance is necessary every year in order to achieve compliance. The reality is that every office has the most important tool to achieving self-reliant compliance – their office OSHA manual.

Today's event will shine a light on how the contents of the office OSHA manual is the main ingredient to the dental team to working together to achieve training and compliance protocols. So grab your OSHA manual, your lunch, and let's chat about how easy it can be to manage your compliance standards.

Learning objectives:

- Content requirements of a compliance plan
- Annual training and maintenance of a compliance plan
- How every member of the dental team can participate in your ongoing success without the need for facilitation using the best tool in your toolbox – your manual
- OSHA compliance resources readily available to the dental community

Ms. LaDonna Drury-Klein completed her dental assisting education and her national dental assisting board examinations just as California established the RDA license. During her 18 years as a chairside clinician, she earned degrees in biological sciences and business management before completing her teacher credentialing in higher education from UC Berkeley Extension. Ms. Klein worked for three community college-based vocational programs teaching dental sciences, began a very successful consulting firm for dental office compliance, and served as Assistant Vice President of Education for the California Dental Association, during which time she consulted and worked very closely on legislation to bring the dental assisting duties into statute.
